

p/e golf program

Is your school interested Golf as a part of the Physical Education curriculum?

Why are schools across the country using P/E classes to teach youths golf? Because, beyond the obvious physical health benefits, golf promotes character development. It is just that, "Character Development" a byproduct of the game, that resonates with educators. A belief in values that aligns so well with the "Core Values" of our education system. Golf can help educators expand the minds of children while promoting a set of values so to develop a well rounded student.
